Dear Ruth —

Good Afternoon!

It was a beautiful day, so I went to church this morning instead of waiting until this evening. (Um. hmmm — I got up at a quarter to nine.) The little church is just off the campus and they had a very good sermon. — They had a very good preacher — he said in twenty minutes things which the 'ordinary' minister would deliver in — not less than an hour. I

Last evening I went to the theatre with the most wonderful girl in the world. It was the perfect evening — a perfect play — a perfect 'snack' — and, most important; without which there would have been no evening — you.

Monday evening is so far, far away — and I'm so anxious to see you again —

All my love —
Jerry
